Padre X remembers John Weir Foote, the only Canadian chaplain to win the Victoria Cross for Valour.

Drive Dance

Shades—Rachel Browne Theatre

A portrait in silhouette. A rocky romance. A high stakes game of chance. What are the shades hiding?

Drive Dance reveals a world of vulnerability, emotion, physicality, and risk in the premier of Shades.

Through a series of works generously gifted to Drive Dance by acclaimed choreographers Stephanie Ballard and Gaile Petursson-Hiley, Shades will draw its audience into a world full of wonder.

With pieces ranging from hard-hitting and raw, to soft and romantic, to quirky and theatrical, Shades is not to be missed!

Small Matters Productions

Sofa So Good—Warehouse

Think you don't like clowns? That clown shows are for kids? Think again.

Rocket and Sheshells have everything going for them: a blossoming love, a beautiful home and a brand new sofa. As the two explore the limits of their relationship and furniture, they discover that getting close is harder than it looks.

See Sofa So Good once and you'll be a Rocket and Sheshells fan for life.

Sexual themes—mature audiences only.

The Struts and Frets Players

Sigurd the Dragonslayer—Playhouse Studio

This show has something for everyone! Gold! Girls! Puns! Fighting! Dragons! Mystery and intrigue! Gods behaving badly!

That's not enough for you? Look, whaddaya want from us? Sex? We've got that. (Well, not sex so much as love triangles. Quadrilaterals. Whatever. Close enough!)

Drugs? We've got that too! (If you count magic potions...) Rock 'n' roll? Johnny Cash references aplenty. (He's rock 'n' roll, isn't he?)

Just come on down, okay? I'm sure we'll find something to please you.
