

ImproVision

ImproVision: VooDoo Burlesque—WAG

We flash our zombie boobs at you to show our appreciation for your 10 years of support during ImproVision's 10th Winnipeg Fringe Festival, and to celebrate a decade of improvising with mousetraps, clothespins, etc., and you can stick us with suggestions like the vivacious voodoo dolls we are, PLUS founding member Ed Cuddy's been blackmailed into our annual one-night stand 11 pm Wednesday, July 25—AND if you want to strip on stage talk to us—AND aren't run-on sentences exhausting?

Aerial Angels

TRUE STORY—MTYP Mainstage

TRUE STORY first toured in 2002-2003, and it's neat coming back to it. My boobs are a little lower and my dad is dead, so it's a different show for me as well as for the audience.

Someone told me to stress "easy parking!" to get people out to MTYP. EASY PARKING! Also, fire eating, aerial silks, some funny and some sad. Six characters, one actor, and you. www.facebook.com/allthegoodtrickshurt

The Works

Three-letter Words—MTYP Richardson Hall

The jagged flash on a field of black is a windmill, a ninja star, the back door of an angel, or a patch of light glimpsed between something's fangs.

Each jagged point is a poem with a twist, a rant, a rave, a joke as old as the hills, or a white flash shining at the end of a throat.

Three-letter Words: at times nasty and irreverent, at times filled with humour and heart, but always packing a poetic punch.

Two Unruly Gentlemen

Two Corpses Go Dancing—WAG

A dark, macabre folk tale musical of dybbuks and ghosts!

When a demon finds himself restless in the great city of Warsaw he discovers two dead and forgotten souls to play with. What fun it is to manipulate hapless corpses!

Itche and Finkle have no memory of their deaths and strive to reclaim what they have lost. Unfortunately, for them, the consequential cost of 'undead life' might be greater in worth than that of their sad and tormented souls.

John Montgomery Theatre Company

Preparation Hex—RRC

The show is, at its heart, a love story—the totally true story of how I fell in love with an amazing, and unfortunately unavailable woman, interspersed with the equally true story of my battle with a debilitating hemorrhoid.

It is all about the mistakes I made in looking for my one true love, how I truly felt that I had a hex placed on me, and the outrageous things I did to try to remedy that situation.

Venue 12

Various Companies—WAG

The Fringe's coolest new venue has comfy swivel seats, a coffee bar, and priceless works of art! Experience dangerous women, singing women in danger, improv, crime solvers, insomniac recluses, booming drums, pharmaceutical astronauts, more improv, sexy moms, and dancing corpses all at Venue 12 – the Winnipeg Art Gallery. Plus $2 off admission to the Fairy Tales, Monsters, and the Genetic Imagination exhibit with your Fringe ticket stub. Did we mention the swivel seats?

Comedy Illusions of Greg Wood

Fringe Family Fun Show—The Argue Building

First show SOLD OUT for the fabulous, fantastic Fringe Family Fun Show.

CBC gives it four stars.

Get your tickets early before they sell out. Bring the whole family. At $5 you can't go wrong.

Hidden Harlequin Theatre

Guernica—Warehouse

April 26, 1937: a small Spanish town attacked by aerial bombers. Nearly everything was destroyed, but from the rubble came creation: a painting that would preserve the town's people beyond any human lifespan. This is the story of that creation—the story of Picasso's "Guernica".

"A fascinating, well-conceived drama that commands your attention and doesn't let it go" —Edmonton Journal, 4.5 stars.

"A must see play for art lovers, history lovers, play lovers, and really just any 'lover'" —Sound and Noise, Edmonton.

Theatre Outgrabe

Artichoke Heart—MTYP Mainstage

Peter and Maria don't mean to fall in love, but in a world where all their friends are musical instruments and speaking poetry is a sexual act, what chance do they have?

Quick, comic dialogue served up with a meaty helping of Pablo Neruda poetry, and a snazzy musical score written and performed live by Tom Keenan, Artichoke Heart is a theatrical feast you don't want to miss!
